

THEY
EAT
CULTURE

2016 Oscar Nominated Short Films

TUES 26th JULY, 19:15 - FILM CLUB

AVE MARIA

Running time: 15 min
Director: Basil Khalil

The silent routine of 5 Palestinian nuns living in the West Bank wilderness is disturbed when an Israeli settler family breaks down right outside the convent just as the Sabbath comes into effect.

SHOK

Running time: 21 min
Director: Jamie Donoughue

Shok is a short drama film written and directed by Oscar nominated director Jamie Donoughue, based on true events during the Kosovo war.

EVERYTHING WILL BE OK

Running time: 30 min
Director: Patrick Vollrath

A divorced father picks up his eight-year-old daughter Lea. It seems pretty much like every second weekend, but after a while Lea can't help feeling that something isn't right. So begins a fateful journey.

STUTTERER

Running time: 13 min
Director: Benjamin Cleary

Apart from his ageing father, Greenwood has only one connection to the external world in the form of an online relationship. Every night, often for hours at a time, he exchanges messages with Ellie. On the eve of their six-month anniversary, Ellie messages Greenwood and tells him that she has travelled to London to surprise him. She asks if he would like to take things "offline" and meet in person for the first time. The image above is taken from the moment just after Greenwood gets that earth shattering message and is suddenly facing a daunting proposition with everything at stake.

THEY
EAT
CULTURE

DAY ONE

Running time: 25 min

Director: Henry Hughes

Inspired by a true story - an Afghan-American woman on the heels of a divorce joins the US Military as an interpreter. On her first day of deployment in Afghanistan, her unit searches out the remote house of a bomb-maker. When the bomb-maker's pregnant wife goes into labor, the interpreter must go beyond the call of duty to deliver her breech child.

Presented with the support of the BFI Audience Development fund and The Continental Venue.